

AWAY FOR JURORS FOR BANK TRIALS

Sheriff Beales Goes to Lower End of Mecklenburg for Men to Complete the Panel.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
BOYDTON, VA., October 7.—Sheriff Beales, under the order of Judge Barksdale, left here on the early morning train for the eastern section of Mecklenburg to summon a venire of seventy-five men, from which to select the balance of the necessary nine jurors who are to sit in the trial of E. W. Overbey. The sheriff was directed to have the men here to-morrow at 10 o'clock A. M., at which time the court will resume the selection of a jury.

The difficulty in the matter of selecting a jury in this case is no surprise to the people here, and is not to be accounted for by reason of hostility to Mr. Overbey, but when it is remembered that the failure of the bank occurred on the 11th of April last, and since that time the matter has been fully aired through the columns of the press, it will be readily seen that a large majority of the citizens of the county have either formed or expressed an opinion in reference to the matter, and are therefore ineligible as jurors. No circumstance of any kind whatever in the recollection of the present generation has so stirred the people, and the matter has been discussed in all its phases from one end of the county to the other. Another difficulty in securing a jury is the fact that there are a large number of the creditors of the bank who reside in Mecklenburg, and they are disqualified by reason of it for jurors. Judge Barksdale's action in overruling the motion of counsel for a change of venue is highly ly commended by many of the best citizens, who resent the idea that the good people of Mecklenburg are so prejudiced that they could not accord a fair and impartial trial to Mr. Overbey. Many of the latter's friends believe he would stand a better chance here than elsewhere. One of the jurors selected yesterday was thought to be ineligible, and was stricken off by the judge this morning, leaving only six who are acceptable to the court at present. The six jurors who have been accepted are under the care of Deputy Sheriff Marvin Beales.

The judge, attorneys and court officers had holiday to-day.

News of Petersburg

Times-Dispatch Bureau.
105 North Sycamore Street,
Petersburg, Va., October 7.
A fire, resulting in some damage, mostly to stock of goods, from smoke and water, occurred shortly before 12 o'clock last night, in the rear portion of the second story of the Lovenstein Brothers' large store at the corner of Sycamore and Franklin Streets. The location of the fire was near a window, and the prompt action of the fire department, and the loss cannot yet be fully estimated. The injury to the building was very trifling.

Brilliant Society Event.
Tabb Street Presbyterian Church was the scene of a brilliant wedding this evening at 6 o'clock, the occasion being the marriage of Miss Mary Leigh Weisiger, one of the prettiest and most popular of Petersburg's fair daughters, to Mr. William Grossman, Jr., of Chesapeake county. A fashionable assembly filled the church to witness the ceremony, which was performed by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. J. S. Foster. The church was very beautifully decorated in palms, ferns and candles, giving a charming effect to the scene. The bride was crowned in a rich princess lace robe over chiffon and taffeta, and carried lilacs of the valley. She entered with her cousin, Mr. Joseph W. Smith, who acted the role of sponsor and gave her away. Miss Lucie Evelyn Weisiger, sister of the bride, groomed in green and over taffeta, and carrying a shower bouquet of maidenhair ferns, was maid of honor. The bridegroom entered with his best man, Mr. T. Stanley Beckwith. Mrs. Charles D. Witherspoon presided at the organ and played the wedding marches while the wedding hymn was beautifully sung by a selected choir. The ribbon girls were little Misses Jean Jones and Annie Cole Townsend, and the following gentlemen served as ushers: E. G. Caldwell, of Hanover, Va.; W. F. Scott, of Weldon, N. C.; Harry Beasley, William A. Bond, Charles H. Bridges and William Koenig, of Petersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Grossman left for the North on their bridal trip. The bride was the recipient of many handsome and useful presents.

A Quiet Home Wedding.
At the residence of the bride, No. 24 East Tabb Street, at 10:45 o'clock this morning, Miss Marion S. Binford was united in marriage to Mr. John R. Doyle, a prominent and well known citizen of Dinwiddie. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. J. S. Foster, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Bell, of Dinwiddie. The wedding was a quiet, but very pretty home event. The parlors were tastefully decorated and many friends were present. Miss Rosa Tucker attended the bride as maid of honor, and Dr. Parry Doyle, of Norfolk, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Mr.

and Mrs. Doyle left for Washington and the North on their bridal trip.

Miss Mary S. James, daughter of Mr. Robert James, of City Point, and Mr. Joseph Sulter, cashier of the Bank of Emporia, left for Washington this morning to be married. A number of friends were at the station to extend them good wishes.

Personal Intelligence.
Grand Commander Thomas T. Munford, of Lynchburg, has appointed Miss Othelia Mahone McGill, of this city, daughter of the late General and Mrs. William Mahone, as sponsor, and Miss Kate Dudley Staples, of Richmond, as maid of honor, to represent the Inspector-General's Department of the Grand Camp of Confederate Veterans, of Virginia, at the Grand Camp reunion to be held in Charlottesville, October 20-22.

Mr. W. K. L. Dickson, of London, England, was a visitor in our city to-day, and was cordially greeted by old friends. Mr. Dickson formerly resided in Petersburg, but left here about fifteen years ago. He was for several years engaged with Edison, the great inventor, but subsequently went to London.

Mrs. T. V. Collins, of Washington, D. C., is visiting her brother, Mr. P. M. D'Aiton, on Liberty Street.

Mr. James McCredy, of Roanoke, grand regent of the Royal Arcanum, of Virginia, was in the city to-day to consult with Mr. James B. Blanks, the grand secretary, on business connected with the order.

It has been found necessary to put extra cars on the trains going to Richmond, to accommodate the crowd of Petersburgers going to the State Fair.

Opening of the Tobacco Market.
The market for the sale of the new tobacco crop was opened here to-day with light offerings at all the warehouses. The season thus far has not been favorable for handling tobacco, hence the light offerings, but the prices obtained to-day were highly satisfactory. Large brought $4 to $6.50, and medium grades $10 to $12.75. No high grades were offered.

Some of the waiters at the Stratford Hotel struck to-day and walked out before dinner. They took offense at the action of the proprietor in abolishing the "tip" system, and announcing that the employees should not receive any further tips from patrons. The stand taken by the proprietor will be heartily approved by the public, as the "system" has grown to be an evil.

Winston Brown, colored, who recently escaped from the temporary jail in this city, after conviction and sentence in the Hustings Court for assault, has been returned to the custody of the sergeant at the City Jail, Danville by a friend and induced to return and serve his sentence.

The Bishop Bridge over the Appomattox River, which has been practically isolated, though not much injured, since the late flood, is being restored and connection made with the city. In a day or two travel will be resumed over the bridge, and the necessity of a pontoon bridge, which the Council had been asked to build, will be done away with.

Death in Dinwiddie.
Mrs. Blossie E. Tucker died yesterday at her home, near Darville's, in Dinwiddie county. She had been in declining health for some time. She was a woman of lovely Christian character and greatly esteemed by all who knew her. Mrs. Tucker is survived by her husband, three sisters and a number of children.

Mr. Marcus Bull, the courteous agent of the Southern Express Company, in this city, on September 25th liberated a large number of carrier pigeons at the lower station, sent to him from Baltimore. To-day Mr. Bull received a letter from Baltimore stating that most of the pigeons made the trip home, about 150 miles, in four hours and nine minutes.

SPEAKING IN ACCOMAC.

Joint Discussion Falls, But Both Parties Have Meetings.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
ONANCOCK, VA., October 7.—Monday was held day for politics in Accomac. It was the first day of October court, and a large crowd assembled. Announcement had been made that Representative William A. Jones, candidate for re-election, would be present and address his constituents, and that Captain John S. Wise would also speak. To these were added Professor Willet M. Hayes, assistant secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture, and Judge M. L. Williams, of Wytheville, Bryan elector at large for Virginia. It had also been stated that a joint discussion would be had, and the crowd came expecting a rare treat. In this they were disappointed, as terms were not arranged for a division of time. Each side blames the other for the failure.

The Democrats held their meeting in the courthouse, and were addressed by Mr. Jones and Judge Williams. The large room was filled to overflowing, and evident satisfaction was shown. Captain Wise and Mr. Hayes spoke from a wagon on the court green. They, too, had many hearers, though the crowd was smaller than that of their opponents. Much of Mr. Hayes' address was devoted to the work of the Agricultural Department for the improvement of the farmers' life, and for the better modes of producing an increased yield of crops. This was, to a large degree, lost, as the people came to hear politics. When he concluded Captain Wise was introduced, and politics began without delay. He was on his feet in good shape, and a characteristic speech of an hour or more followed.

At night Mr. Jones and Judge Williams drove over to Onancock and addressed a large audience. Both are effective speakers. It was Judge Williams' first visit to the Eastern Shore, and he made a very favorable impression.

STAGE COACH WRECKED.

Two Ladies Slightly Injured and One Thrown Into River.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
MONTICELLY, VA., October 7.—About the first serious wreck ever known on the mountain mail route between Staunton and Monterey occurred with the incoming stage Monday night. The accident occurred about 1:30, near the village of McDowell, and was due to the breaking of the tongue brace, detaching the horses from the stage, which was moving at a brisk pace.

The vehicle tumbled over a six-foot embankment into a stream of water which runs parallel with the turnpike, and covered passengers and driver beneath the wreckage. Mrs. M. L. Ogilvie, of Monterey, and Miss Ervine, of McDowell, both sustained painful cuts and bruises. Miss Ervine being entirely submerged in the water. They were helped into the nearest house, and friends ministered to their needs. Mrs. Ogilvie being able, after a time, to continue the journey. The other passenger, Miss Hurley, of Maryland, received very slight injuries. Their escape is regarded as miraculous.
